Governor Submits Act to Require Plain Marking of Cost Prices.

Austin, Tex., July 12.—An act to define profiteering and prescribe penalties therefor was submitted to the Texas legislature by governor W. P. Hobby. This subject was submitted at the request of representative John Davis, of Dallas, who said that he will introduce a bill proposing that all retailers be requested to plainly mark the cost price upon goods offered for sale, with a penalty for failure to mark goods with correct cost figures.

A bill by senator Carlock, of Tarrant, requiring livestock commission merchants to give a minimum bond of $20,000 was passed by the senate. It also requires these commission merchants to make remittances on livestock purchased within 48 hours after the deal is made.

The bill by senator Caldwell, of Travis, amending the law establishing a home for neglected and dependent children, so as to place the lieutenant governor instead of the governor on the board to locate the institution was passed to third reading after an amendment was adopted which would permit the admission of diseased children into the home, provided they are segregated from other children.

ARMY AND COUNTY MAY UNITE IN BUILDING ROAD TO RIVER

A new county highway of modern construction from Fort Bliss south through the Valverde district to the river is being considered by the county, and, in case the proper arrangements can be made, work will be started on it at once.

The road proposed would be approximately 45 feet wide and would run almost in a straight line to the river. It is probable that the military authorities will be asked to cooperate. Maj. Gen. John Wagner, who has definite plans have been made by the military with regard to the work.

Camp Of Boy Scouts In The Mountains

UPPER PICTURE shows camp of El Paso Boy Scouts in canyon near Cloudcroft, the boys taking their morning "setting up exercises." The bottom picture is of a group of scouts studying mountain botany.

Boys Are in Fine Physical Shape, Happy, Receiving Every Attention.

Col. John A. Wagner and J. C. Echlin have returned from Cloudcroft, where they visited the Boy Scouts encampment, which Glenn O. Everman, Scout executive is conducting.

Both are highly pleased at what they found. The boys are in excellent spirits, in good health, have a splendid camp and are getting much out of their outing.

"If I had a boy, I would want him in the camp," said Col. Wagner, after his visit to the camp.

The colonel said he saw no need for a doctor in camp, as the boys are receiving good attention and have no ailments, but he thought they needed some method of transportation, such as an automobile.

There are now 34 boys in the camp, 24 from El Paso and 10 from Cloudcroft. Each boy sails for a period of two weeks, but he may remain at the end of the period and stay longer if his conduct has been exemplary and he is able to pay for further time in the camp.

The camp, named for Brig. Gen. James H. Erwin, is located near Cloudcroft in a picturesque canyon. It is hoped before another year to make it a tri-state encampment for Boy Scouts and there is a hope that in such an event, the government will permit a regular staff of army cooks and army hospital men to attend the camp and minister to the boys.

El Paso Behind In Purchase Of Savings Stamp

War Savings Stamp headquarters were opened Friday in the First National bank building on the Oregon street side, according to John H. Awtry, territorial savings adviser.

The stamp will be on sale here during the remainder of the year, during which time El Paso county is to obtain a total sales record of $999,999 in the district, which will be stated by the government all over the country.

El Paso's sales since January 1 have totaled $23,542.39, according to Mr. Awtry. Sales during January were $12,244.14; February, $2,560.87; March, $2,244.58; April, $4,915.15; May, $3,074.59; June, $2,560.87.

Mr. Awtry stated Friday afternoon that every effort would be made to make El Paso's sales increase during the remaining months of the year faster than they have fallen off since January 1.

"El Pasoans will have to do better than this average of about $500 a month if they expect to reach the $999,999 total during the remaining months of this year," said the adviser. "But they can do it just as they went over the top in the driving other drives and campaigns in which they have participated."
